

Cowboys 10 Biggest Cap-Saving Contracts for 2022

“When it comes to the coaching staff, the Cowboys were able to retain both coordinators – something that didn’t seem that possible even a few weeks ago. But as for the players, that might be a different story. This team has 21 unrestricted free agents, including about 10 who were regular starters,” reports Nick Eatman in Dallas Cowboys.

“Factor in that the Cowboys are around $20 million over the cap right now, and it seems likely that more than a few of these key contributors will be playing on other teams next year. With free agents such as Randy Gregory, Dalton Schultz, Jayron Kearse, Michael Gallup, Connor Williams, Leighton Vander Esch, Bryan Anger and Cedrick Wilson.”
