

Craig Morford Elected General Counsel and Corporate VP Exxon Mobil Corporation

Exxon Mobil Corporation's "board of directors has elected Craig Morford as vice president and general counsel for the company. Morford is currently deputy general counsel," reports ExxonMobil in their Newsroom.

"Morford joined ExxonMobil in 2019 as deputy general counsel after previous roles with the United States Department of Justice and in private industry. For more than 20 years, Morford advanced through the Department of Justice with assignments as U.S. Attorney in Michigan and Tennessee, and first assistant U.S. attorney in Ohio. In 2007, he was appointed as Acting Deputy Attorney General by President George W. Bush. From 2008 until joining ExxonMobil, Morford served as the Chief Legal and Compliance Officer for Cardinal Health, a multinational health care services company."

Read the article.