

Crawford, Wishnew & Lang Welcomes Attorney Makenzie Craft

DALLAS – Makenzie Craft, who in her career has succeeded by mastering the importance of resolving matters efficiently and effectively while focusing on achieving clients' goals, is joining Crawford, Wishnew & Lang, the firm has announced.

"I'm committed to the client in the same way CWL has developed its reputation, through creativity, attention to detail, and zealous advocacy," Craft said. "I'm excited to be a part of the CWL team." Craft represents clients in a variety of complex litigation matters including commercial, employment, product liability, and employment matters in state and federal courts, and arbitration tribunals. She is involved in all phases of litigation including drafting responsive pleadings, drafting dispositive motions, drafting written discovery, conducting document reviews, conducting plaintiff and fact witness depositions, assisting in trial preparation, and attending trial.

Makenzie graduated cum laude from Southern Methodist University Dedman School of Law and was a Dean's List member at both SMU and the University of Arkansas, where she competed as a full-scholarship member and captain of the women's tennis team.

"Both in terms of her academic achievement and her professional accomplishments, Makenzie is a tremendous addition to our team," partner Michael Lang said. "She will be an important part of guiding our clients at Crawford, Wishnew & Lang."
