

Dallas Global Business Tax Firm Ryan Hires John Smith as Chief Legal Officer and General Counsel

“Dallas-based Ryan has hired John Smith as senior vice president, chief legal officer and general counsel, the global business tax services and software provider announced in a news release. John brings an impressive background and knowledge base that we are certain will be an integral part of Ryan’s,” reports The Business Journals in their blog.

“Ryan Global President and Chief Operating Officer Ginny B. Kissling said in the release. This hiring is important, now more than ever, as we focus on our continued global expansion and reimagine how our Legal department can bring greater value and collaboration to service delivery, technology, and our clients. Previously, Smith spent.”
