David J. Beck Wins Lifetime of Excellence in Advocacy Award

David J. Beck of Houston is being honored by the Texas Association of Civil Trial and Appellate Specialists (TACTAS) with the Lifetime of Excellence in Advocacy Award.

The award recognizes a local attorney who has, throughout their legal career, been an example of excellence in trial and appellate work. The Board of TACTAS nominates attorneys who they feel have consistently been examples of skill, zeal and professionalism, and the nominees are then voted on by the membership.

Beck's firm, Beck Redden LLP, said in a release that he is consistently recognized as one of the country's best trial lawyers and has been named in Best Lawyers in America 1985-2016. "This recognition has grown from the consistent results he has achieved for his clients in his 50 years of practice. From the smallest disputes to the billion dollar cases, David understands the importance of each case to his client, and he approaches each with the same intensity and integrity that has served him – and his clients – so well for so long," the release said.

Beck will receive the award during a ceremony held at the Four Seasons Hotel on Nov. 18, 2015.

TACTAS was established in 1986 to promote the availability, accessibility and quality of the services of civil trial and appellate lawyers to the public. TACTAS provides service to the public interest and advances the standards of the legal profession in the area of civil trial and appellate practices. TACTAS members include only attorneys and judges who have obtained board certification in Civil Appellate Law, Civil Trial Law, or Personal Injury Trial Law. Through its years of professional service, TACTAS has promoted high standards in professionalism, established principles and networking resources, and has provided integrity and strength for its members (www.tactas.org).
