

Democrats' Long-Shot Plan to Stop Trump's Supreme Court Pick

The Los Angeles Times reports that Democrats, though narrowly outnumbered in the Senate, are embarking on a Hail Mary campaign to block President Trump's pick for the U.S. Supreme Court.

Reporter Sarah D. Wire explains: "Flipping a moderate Republican is probably their only hope. And that only works if they can keep Democrats who represent red states that Trump won from breaking ranks."

Democrats are planning to stress Trump's repeated promises to only appoint justices who would overturn Roe v. Wade.

Wire quotes Brian Fallon, Hillary Clinton's former press secretary, who now runs the liberal advocacy group Demand Justice: "While these litmus-test-style commitments may have been politically sensible for Donald Trump at the time when he was running in the campaign in 2016, we believe they will come back to haunt his nominee in this summer's confirmation battle."
