

Discovery and Mitigation of Legacy Contract Risks

✖ Selectica offers an on-demand webinar on how contract discovery lets you leverage legacy contracts to drive enterprise-wide value, efficiency and risk management.

Businesses are built on contracts. Successful contract management in the enterprise includes insights, control, compliance, and monetization, Selectica says on its website. But your organization may have thousands of unaccounted for or poorly managed contracts – perhaps tens of thousands – that are creating unnecessary risks, causing lost revenues, and eroding your enterprise's hard-earned brand equity and business relationships.

The webinar helps participants:

- Gain insights based on Gartner, Inc. research, etc. into corporate counsel, procurement, and contract management trends influenced by changing compliance needs, processes, and technologies
- See a comprehensive overview of contract discovery, migration, and management best practices that can provide a positive impact for your organization
- Learn from use cases on what works and what to avoid in the context of contract lifecycle management for the modern enterprise
