DOE Webinar on Smart Grid Data Privacy: A Voluntary Code of Conduct

The U.S. Department of Energy's Office of Electricity Delivery and Energy Reliability in coordination with the Federal Smart Grid Task Force will conduct a webinar to conclude the development phase of a Voluntary Code of Conduct (VCC) related to privacy of customer energy usage data for utilities and third parties.

The event will be Thursday, Dec. 11, 1-4 p.m. Eastern time.

The webinar will summarize changes made to the VCC concepts and principles as a result of comments received through the public comment period. In addition, a proposed implementation plan and adoption process will be presented as well as preliminary results from focus groups conducted to gauge consumer sentiment.
