E-Discovery Day is Coming on December 3, 2020

The largest virtual e-discovery event of the year is less than two months away.

Due to COVID, this year's event will look a little different, but there will be no shortage of e-discovery innovation and fun! We are planning virtual celebration events (think yoga and happy hour), educational webcasts, a virtual expo hall, and loads of other online resources to help you broaden your e-discovery knowledge.
We are excited for this year's celebration and look forward to having you join us!

Why Attend
All too often, e-discovery professionals operate in the background. Hot-shot litigators argue cases in court. Judges command attention from the bench. Even IT security pros and hackers get occasional headlines when there's a data breach.

In 2015, we decided that enough was enough. E-Discovery plays a critical—and growing—role in the legal process. After all, the e-discovery industry is expected to reach almost $19 billion per year by 2023, up from more than $10 billion in 2018. To get e-discovery, and the hard-working professionals who make it happen, the attention they deserve, we established E-Discovery Day.

The 6th annual celebration of e-discovery is bigger and better than ever. In 2019, 23 supporting organizations collaborated to host 19 webcasts and 16 live events from California to London and New York to Johannesburg. Participation in E-Discovery Day continues to grow with over 3,000 participants in 2019.

E-Discovery professionals deserve the recognition and opportunities to learn, network, and celebrate all that E-Discovery Day brings. We truly appreciate your participation in this year's celebration and look forward to connecting with you again next year.

Check out the new e-discovery website