

Eli Lilly Names New Chief Ethics and Compliance Officer

“Eli Lilly and Company ... announced the upcoming retirement of two executive committee members and the naming of their successors in the company’s manufacturing operations and ethics and compliance organizations,” released Lilly in Investors’ Latest News.

“Myles O’Neill, senior vice president and president of Lilly manufacturing operations, will retire May 2, 2021 after nearly 19 years of service with the company. Melissa Barnes, senior vice president and chief ethics and compliance officer, will retire June 27, 2021 after more than 26 years with the company. Edgardo Hernandez, who currently serves as senior vice president, global parenteral drug product and device manufacturing, will succeed O’Neill as senior vice president and president of Lilly manufacturing operations. Alonzo Weems, presently vice president and deputy general counsel, will succeed Barnes as senior vice president and chief ethics and compliance officer. Hernandez and Weems will report to David A. Ricks, Lilly chairman and CEO, and both will join Lilly’s executive committee.”

Read the release.