

Eliminate Roadblocks to Integrated Contract and Revenue Management

❑ Are your contracting and revenue management processes jamming you up? Revtas offers a free on-demand webcast designed to help participants set up a well-planned route to relieve the jams.

Navigating a route filled with obstacles – poorly designed or outdated processes, miscommunications, oversights, and variable external conditions – can hinder any organizations ability to reach their goals efficiently and effectively, Reivtas says on its website.

This recorded webcast, “Traffic Update: Re-Routing to the Intersection of Contract and Revenue Management”, explores approaches to properly managing contracting and revenue management processes and map out a route for success. Watch now to learn:

- Best practices for integrating your contracts and financials
- The value and impact of accurate financial accruals
- Impacts of poor contracts on your bottom line
- Consequences of viewing contracts as only a legal device
