

2015 Best Legal Blog Contest

The Expert Institute is working on a comprehensive ranking of legal blogs as a part of its 2015 Best Legal Blog Contest.

“You’ve written hundreds of posts, scored thousands of pageviews, and won diehard fans and subscribers,” the Institute says on its website. “Whether you offer insightful analysis of a niche legal topic or light hearted commentary on life as a lawyer, your legal blog deserves some recognition.

“From medical malpractice to intellectual property and criminal law, we’re creating the largest and most comprehensive ranking of legal blogs online today as chosen by thousands of voters – and we want your blog to earn a spot on the list.”

The Institute says each blog will compete for rank, as well as exposure to our monthly readership of more than 200,000 legal professionals. The three blogs that receive the most votes overall will win cash prizes.
