FedEx Lead Counsel Thomas Murrey, Jr. Joins International Association of Defense Counsel

The International Association of Defense Counsel (IADC) has announced that Thomas W. Murrey, Jr., lead counsel with the FedEx Corp. Legal Department/Litigation in Memphis, Tennessee, has accepted an invitation to join the IADC, the preeminent invitation-only global legal organization for attorneys who represent corporate and insurance interests.

As FedEx lead counsel, Murrey focuses his work on commercial litigation with an emphasis on cargo litigation, including domestic and international shipments, and commercial fraud.

Murrey's professional affiliations and memberships include the Federal Bar Association (Veterans Military Law Section CLE chairman); Federalist Society; Memphis Bar Association; Millsaps College Alumni Association Board of Directors (Career Networking Committee Chairman, 2006-2016); and Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation West Tennessee Chapter Board of Directors, 2008-2013. Murrey served in the U.S. Air Force active duty from 1986 to 1999 and in the Air Force Reserves from 2000 to 2014 as a judge advocate, retiring as a lieutenant colonel.

Murrey received his J.D. from the University of Memphis School of Law and his Bachelor of Arts from Millsaps College.
