

Find Out if You're Part of Apple's $14.8 Million iCloud Settlement

"Apple is preparing to pay out $14.8 million as part of a settlement of a class-action lawsuit that alleged the company stored iCloud subscribers' data on third-party servers without informing them. The free version of Apple iCloud comes with 5GB of storage, but additional space requires a paid iCloud Plus," reports Dan Avery in CNET.

"Plaintiffs in Williams v. Apple alleged that Apple made no mention of outside servers in its marketing materials or terms and conditions. The current iCloud customer agreement does refer to third-party servers. Though Apple did not admit to wrongdoing, the company agreed to the settlement in January. A final approval hearing."

Read the article.