

FirstLight Power Names Stephen Pike as Vice President and General Counsel

“FirstLight Power, a leading clean power producer and energy storage company, today announced that the company has tapped Stephen Pike as Vice President and General Counsel. Mr. Pike joins FirstLight after leading the Massachusetts Clean Energy Center (MassCEC) as Chief Executive Officer,” reports Business Wire in their blog.

“Mr. Pike will bring more than eight years of experience and leadership in the clean energy sector at MassCEC and well over a decade serving as outside general counsel to privately held and publicly traded companies, advising on transaction, commercial and operational matters, focusing primarily on financing transactions and mergers.”
