Foley & Lardner Hit With Cybersecurity Incident

Bloomberg Law is reporting that Foley & Lardner LLP experienced a cybersecurity incident earlier this month, but said there was “no unauthorized access to client data.”

Jill Schachner Chanen, external communications manager at Foley & Lardner, told Bloomberg Law in an email that the incursion occurred earlier this month.

She said the firm has security safeguards in place designed to protect the IT system and data and that no client data was exposed to the cyber intruders.
