Bethanie Livernois Joins Bradley in Dallas

Bethanie Livernois has joined Bradley Arant Boult Cummings LLP's Dallas office as an associate in the Government Enforcement and Investigations Practice Group.

In a release, the firm said Livernois is the fourth lawyer to join the group in recent weeks.

The firm said Livernois has developed and overseen key investigation and auditing strategies with an emphasis on company investigation procedures and outcomes, diversion risks, and training programs. She is experienced with U.S. export control regulations, U.S. and Texas laws involving trademark and trade secret matters, securities laws, federal plea agreements and probation requirements, and Texas civil procedure.

She previously practiced at Stanton LLP.

Livernois earned her J.D. with honors from Southern Methodist University Dedman School of Law and her B.A. with honors from Austin College in Sherman.
