

Brown Rudnick Adds Partner G. Derek Andreson in Washington, D.C.

Brown Rudnick LLP announced that G. Derek Andreson has joined the firm as a partner in the Washington, D.C. office. He joins as a member of the firm's White Collar Defense & Government Investigations Practice Group.

His addition comes on the heels of white collar partner Rachel Wolkinson, who joined the D.C. office earlier this year.

In a release, the firm said Andreson's practice is focused on representing companies and individuals on white collar matters, including fraud and corruption, Department of Justice (DOJ) and Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) investigations, Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA) compliance and enforcement matters, and internal investigations for privately held and public companies. He is also an experienced criminal and civil trial attorney.

Before joining Brown Rudnick, Andreson was a partner and co-chair of Winston & Strawn's Global Anti-Corruption & FCPA Practice Group. Andreson also served as a Navy SEAL for six years before embarking on his legal career.

Andreson earned his J.D. from Williams & Mary Law School and his B.A. from Old Dominion University.
