

E-discovery and Information Governance Expert Rena Verma Joins FTI Consulting

FTI Consulting, Inc. announced the addition of Rena Verma, an expert in e-discovery, information governance and legal operations, as a senior managing director in the Information Governance, Privacy & Security practice within the Technology segment. Verma will be based in New York and will support growth for current and new data governance solutions.

The firm said Verma has nearly 20 years of experience advising Fortune 500 legal departments and law firms in information governance, electronic discovery, legal technology and legal operations. Her clients include pharmaceutical, banking, insurance, transportation and technology companies.

In addition, Verma has led legal integration projects involving mergers, acquisitions and divestitures requiring merging and separation of business information systems and processes, organizational design work as well as implementation of legal hold solutions, the firm said.

Prior to joining FTI Technology, she served in leadership positions with Consilio and the Huron Consulting Group.