

Foley & Mansfield Expands to Colorado

The national defense firm of Foley & Mansfield announced that it has opened an office in Denver, Colorado, to accommodate regional and national clients in commercial litigation and insurance defense matters.

The office will be led by Dustin J. Priebe, a litigator licensed to practice in Colorado and California.

“We have been closely examining our opportunities to expand in the Denver area and are extremely pleased to see our plan come to fruition with Dustin’s involvement,” says founding partner Kyle Mansfield. “His energy and experience will be a tremendous asset to our clients and to the firm.” “It is a enormous opportunity to participate in the firm’s expansion into the Denver and greater Colorado area,” adds Priebe. “With a healthy business climate and great standard of living, I see ample opportunities to better serve clients and continue to expand our footprint in the region.”

This is the third office the firm has opened in the last two years, in addition to Kansas City and Indianapolis, the firm said in a release. Foley & Mansfield now has 14 offices across the U.S. The new Denver office is located at 7887 E. Belleview Avenue, Suite 1215, Englewood, Colorado 80111.