

Greensfelder Adds Five New Associates in St. Louis

Greensfelder, Hemker & Gale, P.C. announced that five attorneys have joined the firm's St. Louis office as associates. The new attorneys are Celine L. George, Kathleen M. Howard, Scott C. Johnston, Amy C. Moorkamp and Hunter B. Rouse.

"We are excited to welcome Celine, Kathleen, Scott, Amy and Hunt as our new fall associates in St. Louis," said Greensfelder Chief Executive Officer Timothy R. Thornton. "Each of them brings significant experience and credentials that will benefit our clients across a broad section of legal practice areas."

A member of the firm's Litigation Practice Group, George was a summer associate at Greensfelder in 2016 and 2017. She received her J.D. from Washington University School of Law and her Bachelor of Arts from Rhodes College.

Also a member of the Litigation Practice Group, Howard was a Greensfelder summer associate in 2017. In addition, she previously interned at the U.S. Attorney's office in the Eastern District of Missouri and worked as a legal assistant for the Missouri Public Defender System. She received her J.D. from Saint Louis University School of Law and her Bachelor of Arts from Saint Louis University.

Johnston joins the Business Services Practice Group at Greensfelder, where he worked as a summer associate in 2017. Prior to law school, he worked as a tax accountant at BKD, LLP in Kansas City, Mo. Johnston received his J.D. from Saint Louis University School of Law. He also holds a Master of Accounting and a Bachelor of Science, both from the University of Kansas.

A member of the Litigation Practice Group, Moorkamp was a summer associate at Greensfelder in 2017. She previously was a law clerk for the Missouri Office of the Public Counsel in Jefferson City. In addition, she interned for Judge Rebecca Pallmeyer of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois. Moorkamp received her J.D. from the University of Missouri School of Law and her Bachelor of Arts from the University of Missouri.

Rouse is a member of the Business Services and Real Estate practice groups. He worked as a summer associate at Greensfelder in 2017. Previously, he interned for the Fayette County Attorney's Office in Kentucky and at a real estate management company. He also founded and operated a small business in the food industry. Rouse received his J.D. from Washington University School of Law and his Bachelor of Arts from the University of Kentucky.
