

Hogan Lovells Adds M&A and Capital Markets Lawyer in Philadelphia

Robert C. Juelke has joined Hogan Lovells' Philadelphia office as a partner in the firm's corporate practice.

In a release, the firm said Juelke has experience advising on transactional matters for clients in the financial services industry, including insurers, investment advisers and real estate investment trusts. He represents both buyers and sellers in a broad range of M&A transactions and has handled numerous insurance portfolio transfers through complex reinsurance transactions. Juelke also regularly advises clients on capital markets transactions, SEC reporting requirements and corporate governance matters.

Juelke joins the firm from Drinker Biddle, where he served in several senior leadership positions over the past ten years, including chair of the Corporate & Securities Practice Group, chair of the Partner Compensation Committee and executive partner for the firm, where he managed more than 300 lawyers in the firm's business and transactional practices. Juelke had been at the firm since starting practice in 1993.

Juelke graduated with distinction from the University of Virginia in 1990 and earned his J.D. in 1993 from the William and Mary Law School.