

Hunton Andrews Kurth Adds Boston Attorney Michael J. Altieri

Michael J. Altieri has joined Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP as senior attorney in the firm's global environmental practice in the Boston office.

In a release, the firm said Altieri's practice focuses on issues relating to environmental permitting and energy infrastructure siting, including for renewable energy projects. He has experience overseeing environmental matters, dispute resolution and enforcement actions involving infrastructure construction projects, energy resources, contaminated lands and much more.

Prior to joining Hunton Andrews Kurth, Altieri worked for regulatory agencies in Massachusetts and New York, including the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority, Massachusetts Department of Energy Resources, Massachusetts Department of the Environment, New York State Department of Environmental Conservation, as well as several others.