

San Antonio's Langley & Banack, Inc. Promotes Three to Shareholders

San Antonio-based law firm Langley & Banack, Inc. announced that Charla D. Davies, Richard A. McNitzky, and Dane H. Patrick have been promoted to shareholders. The law firm has 66 lawyers practicing in 18 specialties in six central and south Texas office locations.

Charla D. Davies is a board-certified Family Law attorney and current President of the Family Law Section of the San Antonio Bar Association. Davies' emphasis is litigation of high-conflict family law matters including divorce, child custody, child support, and enforcement of court orders. In addition to her trial practice, she practices Collaborative Family Law and is a member of both the Collaborative Law Institute of Texas and the Collaborative Professionals Association of San Antonio. Davies received her Bachelor of Arts from The University of Texas at San Antonio and her Juris Doctorate from St. Mary's University School of Law.

Richard A. McNitzky represents hospitals, facilities, and individual health care professionals in complex medical, personal injury, and business disputes. The underscore of his practice is litigation and trial of cases on behalf of health care providers. McNitzky has represented clients in almost every county in South Texas and achieved verdicts favorable to his clients. McNitzky received his Bachelor of Arts from The University of Texas at Austin and his Juris Doctorate from Texas Tech University School of Law.

Dane H. Patrick focuses on complex commercial litigation and is board certified in Personal Injury Trial Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization. He represents businesses, trustees, individuals and families and litigates in matters involving business, trust and estate, construction, and personal injury disputes. He is rated AV-Preeminent (highest rating for legal ability and professional ethics) by his peers in Martindale-Hubbell, and author of the law blog, The Texas Commercial Litigator. Patrick received his Bachelor of Arts from The University of Texas at Austin and his Juris Doctorate from Southern Methodist University School of Law.
