

Mitchell Silberberg & Knupp Adds Entertainment & IP Litigator

Mitchell Silberberg & Knupp LLP announced that Eleanor M. Lackman, an intellectual property, media and entertainment lawyer, has joined the firm as a partner in its Entertainment & IP Litigation practice group.

In a release, the firm said Lackman has a focus in litigation and licensing matters involving emerging technologies, music, motion pictures, sports, fashion and luxury goods, including intellectual property, media and entertainment litigation, along with comprehensive trademark services in prosecution, counseling and enforcement.

Lackman is a trustee and past co-chair of the New York Chapter of the Copyright Society of the U.S.A., serves on the Board of Advisors to the Fordham Center on Law and Information Policy, and is a member of the International Amicus Committee of the International Trademark Association (INTA). Lackman earned her A.B. from Rollins College and her J.D. from Fordham University School of Law.
