

Real Estate Development Attorney Joins Holland & Hart in Salt Lake City

Kathryn J. Carlisle-Kesling has joined Holland & Hart's Real Estate Development group as of counsel in Salt Lake City, Utah.

In a release, the firm said Carlisle-Kesling has experience guiding clients in project development – from planning to due diligence and title to acquisition and through lease out, management, and operation. She has led transactions involving a wide range of development projects and draws on experience with dispute resolution, bringing persuasive communication and negotiation skills to help clients navigate issues that may arise in transactions.

Prior to joining Holland & Hart, Carlisle-Kesling was a partner shareholder with Buckley King in Ohio. She served as a member of the Ohio State Bar Association, Real Property Section Council, from 2015-2019 and was one of the first lawyers in Ohio to become a Certified Specialist in Residential Real Property Law. Kate also Chaired the Cleveland Metropolitan Bar Association, Real Property Section, and Co-Authored the Revised Ohio Title Examination Standards.

Kate frequently writes and presents on real property matters. She received her J.D. from the University of Toledo and earned her B.A. from the University of Cincinnati. She is admitted to practice in Utah and Ohio.
