

Segal McCambridge Singer and Mahoney Adds Litigator Joseph L. Kish

Segal McCambridge Singer and Mahoney, Ltd. has added Joseph L. Kish to the firm. Kish joins the firm as a shareholder in its Chicago office.

“We are excited to have Joe become part of our firm. Joe’s extensive experience and expertise in handling complex business litigation and his outstanding reputation within the Chicago legal community will be tremendous assets to the firm as we continue to expand and diversify our practice, both in Chicago and nationally,” said Mark Crane, Segal McCambridge managing shareholder.

The firm said Kish has experience in complex business litigation, including intellectual property matters, antitrust, business torts, fraud, breach of contract, technology and cybersecurity, employment, professional negligence and other areas of civil litigation.

“I was drawn to Segal McCambridge because of its national litigation practice and its plan for continued national growth. The firm has dedicated significant resources to this plan which will allow me to better service my current clients and, at the same time, allow me to expand my practice here in Chicago and across the country,” Kish stated.

Kish is licensed to practice in Illinois and California. Kish received his Juris Doctorate degree from DePaul University College of Law in Chicago and his B.G.S. in Economics and Political Science from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.
