

Selman Breitman Names Two New Partners

Selman Breitman LLP announced that Ryan M. Sellers and Hee Sung Yoon have been elected to the firm's partnership.

In a release, the firm said Sellers, who practices in the firm's Orange County office, represents clients in insurance coverage disputes, personal injury lawsuits, and complex business litigation, including cases involving alleged bad faith, failure to defend and/or indemnify, violations of the Labor Code, consumer fraud, and unfair competition law. His clients include insurance carriers, rental car companies, and a variety of small businesses. He also represents creditors in disputes that involve complex bankruptcy issues.

Sellers earned his J.D. from the Thomas Jefferson School of Law and his B.S. from San Diego State University.

Hee Sung Yoon, who practices in the firm's Los Angeles office, represents insurance companies in coverage disputes with their insureds, or co-insurers in the areas of commercial general liability, commercial automobile, professional liability, excess, and umbrella coverage. He has represented clients in bad faith, contribution, declaratory relief lawsuits, and class action lawsuits.

Prior to joining Selman Breitman, Yoon worked as a law clerk to Elizabeth Allen White and Debra Katz Weintraub, both of the Superior Court of California, Los Angeles County. In 2014, Yoon was named to the Lawyers of Color Hot List. He earned his J.D. from Loyola Law School, and his B.A. and B.S. from the University of California, Los Angeles.
