

Stroock Hires Neeraj Rajpal as Chief Information Officer

Neeraj Rajpal has joined Stroock as chief information officer, overseeing a national team of more than 25 across the firm's offices.

Neeraj has served as CIO at three Am Law 100 firms, including Morrison & Foerster and K&L Gates, and has over 25 years of strategic IT experience.

In a release, the firm said Neeraj has overseen IT strategic road maps, security and information management, cybersecurity and privacy programs, disaster recovery and infrastructure management, among other areas. He is also fluent in cutting-edge aspects of legal tech trends such as blockchain and artificial intelligence.

The firm recently realigned its talent management and professional development functions, including the creation of new assistant director of talent acquisition and director of talent and inclusion positions.