

The Expert Institute's Best Legal Blog Contest is Now Open

The Expert Institute has opened its 2016 Best Legal Blog Contest and is accepting votes.

Over the past month, the Institute has received thousands of nominations for the contest and has narrowed the field to more than 500 blogs, listed by category.

“We’ve broken our nominees into nine different categories – ranging from criminal law to legal technology – pitting them against each other in a head-to-head contest judged by the authority that matters most: their readers,” the Institute says on its website.

Blogs will be ranked within their category by the number of votes they receive. The three blogs that receive the most votes overall will win prizes as well as a permanent spot on the Institute’s Best Legal Blogs page. Readers can submit one vote per blog, but can vote for as many blogs as they like across every category.

The polls will be open until Nov. 14, at 12 a.m. EST.

See nominees and cast votes.