

Venable Continues Adds Zachary Williams as Of Counsel

Zachary G. Williams has joined Venable LLP as counsel in the Zoning and Land Use Practice in the firm's Tysons and Washington, D.C., offices. Williams focuses his practice on land use law, and land use and real property litigation.

The firm said Williams works with land use, zoning, and real estate development matters, including applications for special exceptions, comprehensive plan amendments, conditional use permits, special use permits, site plans, variances, subdivisions, and rezonings. He also regularly assists clients with zoning violation issues and zoning due diligence reviews prior to the acquisition and development of property. Williams has handled land use and real property-related litigation and appeals that have reached the Virginia Supreme Court, District of Columbia Court of Appeals, Maryland Court of Appeals, and the Maryland Court of Special Appeals.

In addition to Williams, the firm recently added three new associates to the Tysons office.

Williams received his J.D. from The George Washington University Law School, and his B.A. in Political Science from Davidson College.
