On-Demand: Getting Global in Your View of Contracts

- Determine Inc. has posted a complimentary on-demand webinar titled "Getting Global in Your View of Contracts."

The webinar features Tim Cummins, CEO of the International Association for Contract & Commercial Management. Other speakers are Kal Patel, senior director CLM Professional Services of Determine, and Constantine Limberakis, vice president of product marketing with Determine.

On its website, Determine says the webinar discusses what impacts the coming year will have, including how best-in-class companies use contract management to prepare for the increased volatility of an ever-changing global business environment.

The webinar covers:

- Changes impacting contract management and improving collaboration
- Addressing what organizations have done to pave the path for change
- The role technology plays in managing uncertainty
