What Will the 2018 Elections in Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming and Alaska Mean for the Energy Industry?

Holland & Hart will host a panel discussion titled "Shifting Tides: What Will the 2018 Elections in Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming, and Alaska Mean for the Energy Industry?"

The event, which includes lunch, will be Friday, Oct. 12, 2018, 11 a.m.-1 p.m. in the firm's Denver office.

Key governors' races in the energy-producing states of Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming, and Alaska are in full swing, the firm says on its website. The panel will discuss how these races, along with potential shifts in the make-up of state legislatures, might affect energy policy and future development in these critical states.

Moderator: Sean Parnell
Attorney | Holland & Hart LLP
Former Alaska Governor

Speakers:

COLORADO
Eric Waeckerlin
Partner | Holland & Hart LLP

Tracee Bentley
Colorado Petroleum Council Executive Director

NEW MEXICO
Ryan Flynn
New Mexico Oil & Gas Association Executive Director

WYOMING

Susan Aldridge
Anadarko Petroleum Corporation Director, Wyoming Regulatory and External Relations

Joe Milczewski
Anadarko Petroleum Corporation Government Relations Manager

Location:

Holland & Hart LLP
555 17th Street,
Suite 3200
Denver, CO 80202

For more information contact Lauren Israel at 303.295.8201 or lmisrael@hollandhart.com.

Register for the event.