

Ambiguous Limitation-of-Liability Clause Did Not Clearly Restrict Owner's Claims

A Mississippi federal court denied a defendant's motion for partial summary judgment in connection with a limitation-of-liability clause, according to a post on the Constructlaw blog of Pepper Hamilton.

Anthony Finzio writes that the Court also denied the defendant's motion for reconsideration, concluding that the defendant had not carried its burden as the movant of demonstrating that the limitation-of-liability clause limited the plaintiff's rights as a matter of law.

The case is DAK Americas Mississippi, Inc. v. Jedson Engineering, Inc. et al.

Read the article.