How to Identify and Mitigate Cybersecurity Threats for Business [Free Webinar]

SecureDocs will present a complimentary webinar designed for professionals who are interested in understanding, identifying, and mitigating potential data breach disasters before they occur.

The webinar will be Wednesday, Oct. 26, at 11 a.m. PST.

Featured speaker John P. Lucich, president at High Tech Crime Network, will present an analysis of the current cyberattack landscape and give detailed instructions on what businesses can do to prevent both internal data leaks, and external attacks.

During this 60-minute webinar, Lucich will introduce and examine critical topics regarding corporate data security, including:

-The common reasons why network intrusions occur
-The direct and indirect impact of a security incident on a business
-The challenges and misconceptions regarding network defense that lead to a false sense of security amongst organizations
-Likely sources of security breaches and what businesses can do to protect against them

Register for the webinar.
