Frost Brown Todd Adds Trial Lawyer Simon Levy as Partner in San Francisco

Frost Brown Todd (FBT) has added Simon Levy as a partner in its Business & Commercial Litigation practice, continuing the firm's expansion in California. Levy, a trial attorney with extensive experience in securities and employment litigation, will be based in the firm's San Francisco office.

Levy's practice includes representing broker-dealer firms and individuals in securities industry disputes, including arbitrations involving claims such as fraud, breach of fiduciary duty, and violations of securities laws.

He also defends employers in litigation and arbitration involving wrongful termination, discrimination, retaliation, and wage-and-hour claims, including those under California's Private Attorneys General Act (PAGA).

Peter Cummins, chair of the Business & Commercial Litigation group, said Levy's experience strengthens the firm's ability to guide clients through complex disputes amid a challenging economic and regulatory environment.

Levy earned his undergraduate degree from New York University and a Juris Doctor, cum laude, from the University of San Francisco School of Law. He previously served on the editorial board of the USF Law Review and competed on its National Moot Court team.