

GC Employment: Open Positions

Employers may submit listings for open positions in legal departments. The listings will be included on news alerts sent to General Counsel News subscribers. GCN does not charge a fee for this service.

The listing on the alert will include: Position, city, employer. The employer's name will link either to a web page about the position on your website, or to your email address.

This service is available to employers only, not to legal recruiters.
