

Gentry Locke Consulting Welcomes Zachary LeMaster in Richmond

RICHMOND, Va. (December 13, 2021) – Gentry Locke Consulting is pleased to announce the addition of Zachary LeMaster.

LeMaster will provide strategic communications guidance to clients to help advance their legal and policy goals.

“Zach’s experience with the Virginia General Assembly will be a tremendous asset to our clients,” said President of Gentry Locke Consulting, Greg Habeeb. “Zach’s experiences have given him deep insight into the Virginia economy, and he looks forward to guiding businesses as we enter a new era in Virginia.”

Gentry Locke Consulting is now the only firm that can offer clients the capabilities of two former legislators, one Democrat and one Republican, and senior House and Senate staff members from both parties, to help clients achieve their goals.

Most recently, LeMaster served as a legislative aide to Virginia Senate Minority Leader Thomas K. Norment, Jr. Since 2012, he has worked on numerous political campaigns in the Commonwealth. He earned his B.S. from James Madison University.

Gentry Locke Consulting is a full-service public affairs, strategic communications, and marketing firm that empowers clients to advocate, communicate, and market effectively by providing high-quality, tailored, and client-centric services. Learn more at www.gentrylocke.consulting.
