

Gruber Hurst & Elrod Law Firms Combine

Two prominent Dallas business litigation boutiques – Gruber Hurst Johansen Hail Shank and Elrod – have announced that they are merging their law practices.

The combined law firm will have 30 lawyers, making it one of the largest commercial litigation-only law firms in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

“Lawyers at both firms say their merger comes at a strategic time because they expect to see an increase in contract and commercial litigation in the oil and gas sector because of the falling oil prices,” says a Texas Lawbook report posted on the Gruber Hurst website.

Read the article.