Hanzo Names Paul Suh As Chief Financial Officer

Hanzo, a company known for its pioneering technology in dynamic web content preservation from enterprise collaboration applications and complex websites, today announced the appointment of Paul Suh to the position of Chief Financial Officer (CFO). Suh is based in New York and is responsible for driving Hanzo's financial strategy, operational rigor, and overall performance.

Suh is a seasoned finance and operations executive with expertise in SaaS platforms, fintech, digital media, gaming, and payments. His well-rounded experience includes leading finance departments, operations, product, marketing, HR, legal and corporate development for rapidly growing startups.

About Paul Suh

Before joining Hanzo, Suh previously served as the CFO of BackOffice.co an artificial intelligence and machine learning fintech start-up and recent graduate of the 500 Startups Accelerator Program. Prior to that, Paul served as the CFO for coolmath.com, an edutainment casual gaming company owned by private equity sponsor H.I.G. Capital and sold to London-based Sandbox & Co. Suh also served as CFO/COO of various other companies including Sandow, Optimal, Inc. (sold to Brand Networks), Crispy Gamer, Inc (sold to LiveGamer), and Flexplay Technologies (sold to The Convex Group). He loves building transparent, data-driven cultures in quickly scaling businesses. Suh holds a B.S. in Finance, Operations, and Information Management from The Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.
