Helping Employers Navigate the Ever Expanding Laws that Protect Employee Leave

Squire Sanders has made available online a free webinar that addresses developments in courts' treatment of military leave, the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) and the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The program also provides practical guidance for employers managing employee leave in light of evolving requirements, the firm says on its website.

Presenters are Squire Sanders partner D. Lewis Clark, Jr.; and lawyers Tara A. Aschenbrand and Traci L. Martinez.

Topics include

- Military leave overview, practical implications and policy changes
- FMLA overview, intermittent leave and ADA implications
- ADA developments and reasonable accommodations
- Risks and benefits of third party administrators overseeing employee leave
