Hot Topics in Site Remediation

Riker Danzig will present a complimentary morning seminar updating on Site Remediation Jan. 29, from 8 a.m. until 11:50 a.m. Eastern time. The live seminar will be at the Westin Governor Morris, Morristown, NJ.

Businesses, industry, developers and lenders – and their Licensed Site Remediation Professionals ("LSRPs") – continue to face new challenges in remediation, redevelopment and financing, and litigation over contaminated sites, Riker Danzig says in its invitation to the seminar. Although practice under the Site Remediation Reform Act and LSRP Program is maturing, new issues continue to emerge and the regulatory landscape is evolving and changing.

The live seminar will include:

- Update on the NJDEP Site Remediation Program, Assistant Commissioner Mark Pedersen (invited)
- Developments at the LSRP Licensing Board
- Regulatory compliance and practice tips
- Discussion of the N.J. Spill Act, off-site and comingled plumes and recent litigation.

The attorneys in the firm's Environmental Practice Group, among the foremost practitioners on these topics, will discuss these subjects and provide an ample question and answer session.

The program is being submitted for approval for CEC credit by the Site Remediation Professional Licensing Board and CPC credit by the State Board of Professional Engineers.

For practicing attorneys, this program has been approved by the Board on Continuing Legal Education of the Supreme Court of New Jersey for 3.6 hours of total CLE credit. This program has been approved for 3.5 New York CLE Credits.
