

Hours After His Divorce is Final, Man Accused of Killing Ex-Wife's Attorney

A Georgia lawyer who represented a woman in a divorce told colleagues he was worried about his client's ex-husband, and a few hours later the man murdered him, according to police.

The Atlanta Journal Constitution reports that Antonio Benjamin Mari, 41, died from multiple gunshots Wednesday afternoon, two hours after the final divorce hearing in a Bartow County court.

"After shooting Mari, [Walter Samuel] Radford called his ex-wife, Cindy Radford, to tell her he'd killed the attorney, according to Lt. M.E. Bettikofer with Cartersville police. From there, Walter Radford, 33, allegedly broke into his ex-wife's house and shot himself while no one else was home. He was found dead in the Willow Bend Drive home at 2:40 p.m. Wednesday," reports Alexis Stevens.

Mari had worked nearly 18 years as a high school history teacher before becoming a lawyer.

Read the Journal Constitution article.