

How the Global Energy Markets Will Impact Your Business

☒ The Sustainable Manufacturer Network will present a complimentary webinar including information and summaries on the oil, gas and nuclear markets globally. The presenters will discuss how changes in supply and demand will impact our nation, your region, and your business.

The 30-minute webinar will be Thursday, July 31, beginning at 11:30 a.m. Central time.

A review of the past 10 years with details of the first six months of 2014 will provide a foundation for what to expect in the near and medium future of energy prices. Suggestions for minimizing increases along with “green” options will round out the presentation.

Register for the webinar.