How to Stay Ahead of Risk in Your Supply Chain

IBM presents an on-demand webinar that demonstrates how a robust contract management process is a vital part of mitigating risk in the supply chain.

Presenters say the webinar can help managers learn why contract management is an important part of an holistic risk mitigation approach, how to leverage people, processes and technology with contract management to stay ahead of risk in your supply chain, and how IBM solutions classify, monitor and mitigate risk.

Speakers are Barry Ward, Procurement Brand Manager: GBS EMEA, FCIPS, IBM Services and General Procurement, Integrated Supply Chain; and Matthew McGovern, Global Procurement Solutions, IBM Procurement Solutions.
