

Huskers Finalize Contracts for WR Coach Mickey Joseph, OL Coach Donovan Raiola

“Nebraska is paying its new wide receivers coach and passing game coordinator more than it paid any offensive staffer in 2020 or 2021. Mickey Joseph, whom Scott Frost hired away from LSU last month, is set to earn $600,000 annually for the Huskers on a contract that runs through Dec. 31,” reports Parker Gabriel in Lincoln Journal Star.

“According to a copy of the document obtained via a records request Tuesday afternoon by the Journal Star. Joseph is also carrying an associate head coach title. Nebraska also finalized the contract of new offensive line coach Donovan Raiola, who will earn $325,000 annually. Raiola joined the staff after spending the past four seasons.”

Read the article.