

IACCM Launches Journal of Strategic Contracting and Negotiation

The International Association for Contract and Commercial Management, in collaboration with Sage Ltd., has launched a new journal called the Journal of Strategic Contracting and Negotiation. The first edition of the publication is available free of charge.

The logo for the International Association for Contract and Commercial Management (IACCM). It consists of the letters "IACCM" in a white, bold, sans-serif font, centered within a dark blue square.

It also addresses the impact of contracting and negotiation on trust and ethics in business. As a cross-disciplinary endeavor drawing on the social sciences, JSCAN aims to lead the wave of change concerning theory, research and the practice of strategic contracting and negotiation.

“The launch of the Journal of Strategic Contracting & Negotiation is a momentous event for anyone who cares about the field of contracting,” writes CEO Tim Cummins in the IACCM blog. “For the first time, there is a dedicated academic journal that will promote and consolidate research in this area.”

Multidisciplinary in nature, JSCAN welcomes submissions in the fields of anthropology, economics, finance, international business, law, marketing, operations, organizational behavior, organization studies, political science, project management, psychology, strategic management and sociology. Get more information about submitting articles.

Download the first edition.

