

International Trade Secrets and Non-Compete Law

Seyfarth Shaw will present a complimentary webinar on non-compete and trade secret considerations from an international perspective.

The webinar will be Thursday, July 31, at 9 a.m. Central time.

During the 90-minute webinar, Seyfarth attorneys Wan Li (Shanghai), Ming Henderson (London), Justine Turnbull (Sydney) and Daniel Hart (Atlanta) will discuss non-compete and trade secret issues in Europe, Australia, and China compared to the United States.

Topics will include:

- Overview of key rules for non-compete and non-disclosure agreements in Europe
- Key principles of non-compete and non-disclosure agreements in the United Kingdom, France and Australia, including recent case developments
- Latest developments in non-compete and trade secret law in China
- The European Commission's proposed directive on trade secrets protection throughout the European Union
- Practical considerations under U.S. law for multinational employers to effectively protect their trade secrets and confidential information
