

Jackson Walker Expands IP Practice with Addition of Arthur Gollwitzer

Jackson Walker LLP in Texas is pleased to announce the addition of Arthur Gollwitzer as a partner in the Austin office. Combining his experience gained as a federal prosecutor with 25 years in private practice, Arthur focuses on intellectual property litigation and also is highly experienced in criminal matters and internal investigations.

Ross Forbes Jr., Chair of the Firm's Trial & Appellate Litigation practice group, said, "Arthur's addition marks a significant win for our IP litigation practice as well as our internal investigations and white-collar group. He has a history of winning cases as an Assistant United States Attorney in the Southern District of New York and as an attorney at a national law firm. His experience will complement and support the team's abilities involving intellectual property litigation as well as counseling clients in government investigations."

Virginia Alverson Mimmack, Chair of the Firm's Healthcare practice group, said, "We are happy to welcome Arthur to Jackson Walker and we look forward to working with him. His experience advising clients on internal investigations and government investigations, including False Claims Act suits will be a great addition to our healthcare team."

Arthur has been admitted to practice before the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Second, Fifth, Seventh, and Federal Circuits and the U.S. District Court for the Eastern, Northern, Southern, and Western Districts of Texas. He has also litigated matters in the Southern District of New York, \

Northern Districts of Illinois, the Central and Northern Districts of California, the Northern District of Indiana, and the Eastern and Western Districts of Wisconsin.

He received his J.D., cum laude, from the University of Wisconsin Law School and his B.A. in Economics, magna cum laude, from the University of Notre Dame.
