

Jason A. Jones Named FBI General Counsel

“Director Christopher Wray has named Jason A. Jones as the general counsel of the FBI. Mr. Jones most recently worked in the private sector at the law firm of King & Spalding,” announces the FBI in their Press Releases.

“Mr. Jones was a federal prosecutor for nearly 10 years. He was a supervisory assistant U.S. attorney for the Eastern District of New York, serving as chief of the Violent Crimes and Terrorism Section. He prosecuted scores of individuals for racketeering, murder, international terrorism, terrorism financing, money laundering, and other violations.”

Read the announcement.